

Dr. Carolyn J Faivre

*Knowledge * Hope * Balance * Change*

June Moon Cycle

How the general energy of these three moon cycles supports us:

1. Awareness of subtle energy and the sound of god (great mystery)
2. Presence of self in connection with nature and all that is
3. Experiencing the space between the void
4. Connecting with child energy-our own and of children
5. Fertilizing our potential

Recommended Aspect to work with during this season: Relationships

Additional Suggested Aspects/Elements: Rhythms and Cycles; Relationship/Partner Jamie Sams' Clan Mother: Storyteller

June Moon Cycle: June is the first cycle of the season of summer: I have an opportunity to nourish myself, my environment and all my relations to benefit maximally from the growth supported by this season. The sixth moon extends two arms to encircle us: With the energy of this cycle, use what you have learned in the practice of listening to yourself and extend the practice to listening to the world around you, limited not just to other people, but also to nature and to Divine Voice. We are also invited to listen for rhythms and patterns in our lives, nature and relationships.

The specific Circle of Self® Aspect of Relationship for the June moon cycle is Partnership Self—not surprising when we think of how in our western culture, June has been connected with weddings. But we are invited to expand our concept of partner much beyond the idea of romance. If you choose to work with the Element of Partnership this month—first get some clarity about what ‘partner’ means for you in this case.

In the medicine wheel cycle I work with, the color for the season of summer is red. We often connect this color with ideas connected to passion, anger, blood, as well as love, and energy of the heart and of courage. Red is a wonderful color for anchoring our intention to stay committed to what we are working on for this month. In that sense, you might decide to put the symbols you have in your external sacred space on a red cloth as a way of reaffirming your focus for this month.

During this moon cycle and for the season of summer, focusing on relationships, be aware of the how you speak the truth. What kind of truth is there in the stories you tell yourself and others? The power of our word in a relationship sets the groundwork for how that relationship will grow and develop.